Thank You

“Excellent service and great group of people...Jessica is an awesome..face behind the counter!” John

“It is by far the best auto repair shop in Sierra Vista. They value their customers and consistently met or exceeded my expectations.” Bob

Monthly Service Tip

Is an Extended Warranty for me?

An extended warranty is a service contract covering the cost of specified repairs after the car's manufacturer warranty expires. Think of it as medical insurance for your vehicle. However, be wary that most extended warranties don't cover many routine services like oil changes and often don't cover as many things as the manufacturer's warranty.

If you opt for the warranty, be sure to read between the lines to make sure you understand what is covered.

Make sure items covered are those items most likely to fail, break, or wear out are covered: anti-lock brakes, electrical systems, powertrain, transmission, air conditioner, and other electric components. Read the contract's fine print to determine exactly what is included and what is excluded, checking rental car coverage, etc. Many times, a bumper-to-bumper warranty does not include everything you may need to be repaired.

Feel free to ask us about our experiences with extended warranty companies.
